MVCTC Students Perform Well in National Financial Capability Challenge

Clayton, Ohio -- Miami Valley Career Technology Center (MVCTC) Social Studies and Money Management students participated in the 2012 National Financial Capability Challenge. More than 84,000 high school students nationwide took the Challenge between March 12 and April 13. Sponsored by the U.S. Department of the Treasury in partnership with the U.S. Department of Education, the Challenge is a free, voluntary, online series of financial questions for high school students to check their knowledge of earning, spending, saving, borrowing, risk protection, and more.

Many MVCTC students scored in the top twentieth percentile and received honors from the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the U.S. Department of Education.

Honored social studies students are:

- Patrick Csikos, Interactive Multimedia Development Tech Prep student from Carlisle
- Zachariah Davis, Allied Health Tech Prep student from Milton-Union
- Meredith Durham, Allied Health Tech Prep student from Eaton
- Sierra Gentry, Graphic Commercial Art student from Vandalia
- Kayla Nunnery, Graphic Commercial Art student from Twin Valley South
- Jacob Orner, Automotive Technology Tech Prep student from Miamisburg

Micaela Kauffman, a Business Ownership student from Tri-Village, scored in the top tenth percentile in the nation.

Mrs. Carrie Wiant, MVCT Business teacher said of the competition, "This is a great opportunity for students to see what they have learned about financial literacy during their short time in the Money Management elective class at MVCTC.”
